

Learn Along Pooh.

Disney
Winnie the Pooh

Learn to Read and Recount
Pooh

Pooh and Tigger

Friends Collection

Copyright © 2008 Disney Enterprises, Inc.
Based on the "Winnie the Pooh" works, by A.A. Milne and E.H. Shepard.
All rights reserved.
Published by Studio Mouse,
an imprint of Trudy Corporation, Norwalk, Connecticut.

Dear Parents:

The journey of learning and discovery is so much more fun when you have the friendly characters from the Hundred-Acre Wood along. As your child grows, well-developed social skills and interpersonal relationships are just as important as scholastic achievement. In this charming story, Pooh and his friends provide children with role models for positive social interactions. Through the magic of Disney, your child will learn how special friendship can be!

First Edition 2004
1098
Printed in China

Disney
Winnie the Pooh
Pooh and Tigger

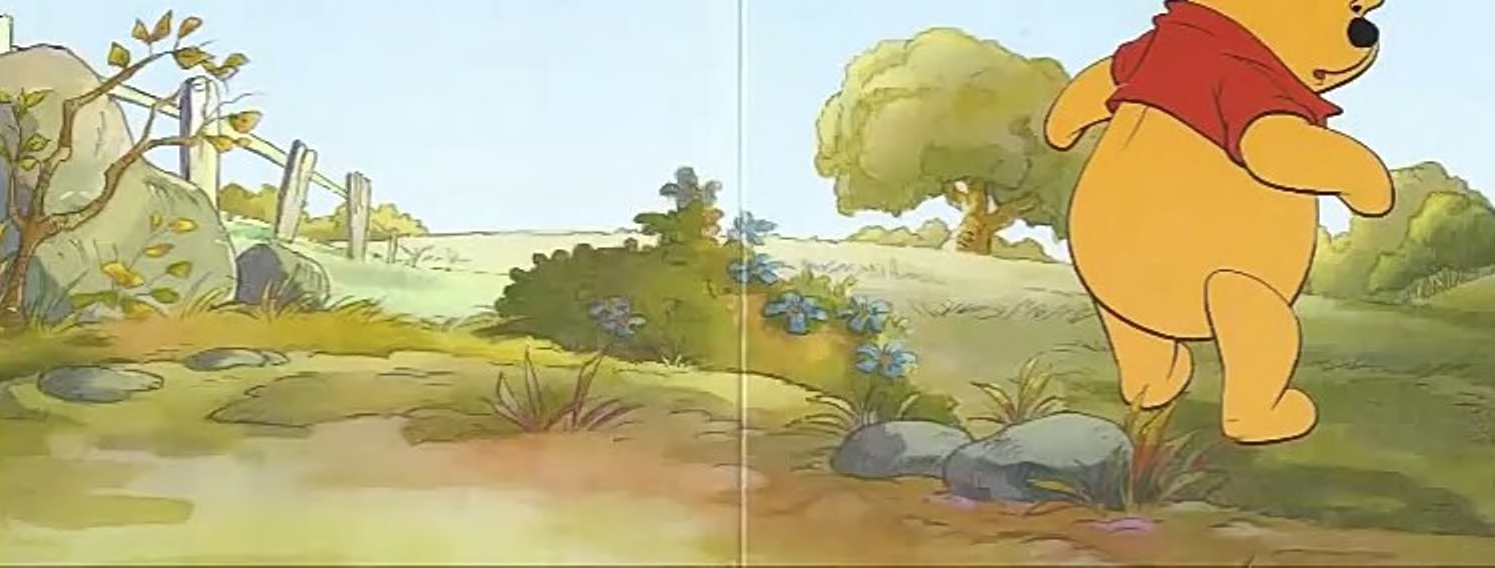

Today is a beautiful day.
Tigger and Pooh want to go for a walk.

Pooh sings a song
while Tigger bounces on ahead.

Pooh keeps singing,
"We're having a picnic,
just for two. Tigger, oh Tigger, where are you?"

Pooh sings, "It's so warm and sunny, I think I'll eat some honey."

Pooh looks around.
He can't find Tigger.

Pooh looks this way and that way. He still can't find Tigger.

"Bother!" says Pooh.
Pooh doesn't know
what to do. "Think,
think, think," he says.

Pooh says, "If I were a tigger, where would I be?
I bet I'd be bouncing up in the air!"

Pooh looks up. It's Tigger!
Tigger bounced so high,
he got stuck!

"Grrr. Tiggers don't like being stuck!" says Tigger.

Pooh isn't sure what to do.
Perhaps he should climb up into the tree!

He climbs up very slowly.

Then he carefully walks out on the branch and untangles Tigger.

"Hoo-hoo-hoo!" cries Tigger, as he falls to the ground and bounces
back up.

"C'mon down Pooh!" says Tigger. Pooh climbs back down the tree.

Pooh and Tigger walk to their favorite spot. They have a wonderful time.

The next day, Tigger surprises Pooh with a present — a giant pot of honey! “Thank you, Pooh old pal, for getting me out of that tree!” says Tigger.

Pooh says, "No worries.
That's what friends are for!"

Disney
Winnie the Pooh

Pooh and Tigger

Friends Collection

Pooh and Tigger are going for a walk in the Hundred-Acre Wood. When Tigger finds himself stuck high in a tree, will Pooh be able to help him?

It's a magical multimedia experience! The lessons presented in this Learn-Aloud book from the Friends Collection are enhanced by a read-along CD and musical fun!

All New Materials
Covered Polyethylene Lamin
Reg. No. BA-13063 (HBO)

studio
mouse

© 2004 Disney Enterprises, Inc.
Based on the "Winnie the Pooh" works
by A.A. Milne and E.N. Bostad
All rights reserved.
Published by Studio Mouse,
an imprint of Disney Corporation
100 Kala Avenue, Norwalk, CT 06851 USA
Tel: 1-800-225-0011 Fax: 1-203-941-1775
www.studiomouse.com
Manufactured in China

$8.99 U.S.

$9.95 CAN.

ISBN-13: 978-1-59094-117-6
ISBN-10: 1-59094-117-1

FLN-MCD-0909-MJ